GROUP 12 ORGANIZATIONAL (Unit) PATCH OPERATING INSTRUCTION

This instruction prescribes the wear of the Group 12 HQ unit patch for Group 12 Headquarters and all subordinate units under this command. The patch relates to Southern Illinois with the King Tut head and with text "Little Egypt" with Group 12, Illinois wing, Civil Air Patrol on the upper circle above the head of King Tut, and with the unit charter number on the lower part of circle below "Little Egypt".

1. All Group 12 subordinate units are authorized to wear the Group 12 HQ unit patch (pocket patch). Subordinate units are also authorized to modify the pocket patch ONLY with their unit name, and charter number. The configuration of the pocket patch with the King Tut head and the text "Little Egypt" will remain the same.
2. The Group 12 HQ unit patch is authorized for wear with the Battle Dress Uniform (BDU), the CAP BDU Blues, and the CAP Jumpsuit until it is phased out on 31 December 2002.
3. Placement of the pocket patch will be centered on the lower portion of the right breast pocket of the BDU shirt or field jacket between left and right edges and the bottom of flap and pocket. May also be worn on the right sleeve of the jumpsuit (reference page 81, item 11, CAP Manual 39-1).
4. The effective date for wear of the Group 12 HQ unit patch is the date of this operating instruction.
